Welsh Slate, head-quartered at Penrhyn Quarry North Wales, is the world's leading manufacturer of high-quality slate for a range of interior and exterior applications.

Uniquely 500 million years old, the material is widely recognised as the finest natural slate in the world.

Operating from three quarries, Welsh Slate has been supplying the world with high-quality slate for hundreds of years.

Welsh Slate products include roofing slate, cladding, flooring, paving, walling, hard landscaping, aggregate, worktops and counters.

Welsh Slate roofing slate benefits from a number of highly practical properties that make it an exceptional roofing slate. It is the most durable slate in the world with a useful and productive life of more than 100 years – guaranteed. It is waterproof and unaffected by normal extremes of temperature, highly resistant to acids, alkalis and other chemicals and it is colour-fast and non-fading, even in UV light.

In recent decades new sources of roofing slate have come into production from all over the world but none have come even close to matching the technical performance of slate manufactured by Welsh Slate.

Welsh Slate manufactures under an accredited Quality Management Scheme which complies with BS EN ISO 9001: 2015 and roofing products are also kite-marked to BS EN 12326-1.

We look forward to helping you with your project.
