

Benetti Macchine SpA: Innovative Solutions for Marble Extraction Since 1926

Headquarter of Benetti Macchine SpA

Founded in Carrara in 1926, Benetti Macchine SpA was established with a clear vision: to transform the marble industry through innovation and the design of cutting-edge machinery for marble extraction. Since its inception, the company has focused on advanced technological solutions aimed at gaining the trust of industry operators by offering reliable, high-performance products that are always aligned with market developments.

Today, Benetti Macchine SpA is internationally recognized as a benchmark in over 50 countries in the field of machinery for marble extraction and stone processing, thanks to a solid distribution network capable of meeting the needs of clients all over the world.

Our extensive product offer includes:

- Bench-mounted chain saws
- Chain saws for squaring blocks and bench cutting
- Tunnel chain saws
- Quarry wire machines
- Dust extractors and drilling machines
- Block cutting machines
- Accessories, original spare parts, and consumables
- Diamond wire and diamond belts

These technologies are designed to optimize every phase of the extraction and production process, enhancing performance and productivity while never compromising on safety, reliability, and efficiency.

Chain saws machines - Benetti Macchine SpA

The philosophy of Benetti Macchine SpA is based on three key principles: versatility, innovation, and continuous training. These values allow us to successfully meet the challenges of increasingly specialised and competitive markets by offering complete and customised solutions that cover the entire value chain—from design to creation—thereby meeting the specific needs of each client.

Our staff - Benetti Macchine SpA

In an industry where precision, reliability, and timeliness are crucial, complete control over the finished product is an essential value for us. That's why all stages—from mechanical, electrical, and electronic design to production and final testing—are entirely managed and developed in Italy, at our facilities. This integrated approach not only allows us to guarantee the highest quality standards but also enables us to respond promptly to market demands, optimising production times and minimizing margins of error.

Chain saws machines CSM 962 - Benetti Macchine SpA

The relationship of trust with the customer is the foundation of every collaboration we establish. Therefore, we support our clients throughout every step of the journey, providing technical expertise gained from decades of field experience in diverse and often complex environments. Also, we are able to assist the customer in every process: from machine selection to its customisation, through installation, testing, and after-sales service.

Chain saws machines a CST 966 4X4 Next Gen - Benetti Macchine SpA

Our customer service is our true strength, ensuring continuous operations and providing technical support at all times.

Our mission is to offer solutions that not only meet the current needs of our clients but also anticipate the future challenges of the marble industry, focusing on innovation, precision, and operational sustainability.

To learn more and stay updated on Benetti Macchine's latest news, visit our website at www.benettimacchine.it or contact us directly at benetti@benettimacchine.it.